

Laura Cowan, a friend of Cameron Gosling: He was one of the loveliest lads I've known like, he would always like have a laugh on, like there wasn't a time when you wouldn't be upset or down around him. Like, he was just one of those people who would always cheer you up and like always put a smile on your face.

The weather was unreal, it was like nice and hot and really sunny - there wasn't a cloud in sight. But then I supposed it changed really fast.

It's quite a blur really like I can't remember much but, just, everyone was in shock. There was like ambulances and police and everything around us and like emergency services.

It doesn't really matter if you're a good swimmer or not, the water can just choose who it wants to, it could be anyone. There's no point wasting a bit of time just to go in a river when you can go to the swimming pool or something like that. Like there's swimming pools everywhere you don't need to go to a river just to have some fun.
