

Lumiere Durham 2017

Clr Simon Henig: Festivals like Lumiere are really important in projecting Durham nationally and internationally as a great place to come. It's been tremendous to see so many people in the centre of Durham for Lumiere again, whether it's local people, visitors, young or old, everybody enjoying the installations with smiles on their faces, its great to see.

Lumiere attendees:

We think Lumiere is one of the greatest things in the North.

Lumiere's amazing.

It's been absolutely wonderful, fantastic, we've seen some really, really good stuff. Our very first one and we will be back.

It's a no brainer, you have to come its brilliant. Thank you.

I love Lumiere.

Helen Marriage: I think it's been amazing, many, many more people than in previous years, the festival seems to go from strength to strength. But what is so marvellous about Durham, it's a very proud place, it was built with great confidence and what were trying to do is amplify that in some way to let people look at those very familiar things in a completely new light.
