

What is Better Business for All?

Better Business for All (BBfA) is a programme developed by the Government to lift the regulatory burdens on business and to create a local regulatory environment that helps to support business growth.

Why is Better Business for All needed?

The regulatory landscape is complex and BBfA will make a positive impact by improving the way regulation is delivered and received. BBfA will enable business to better understand the system and access services which suits their needs, supporting improved compliance and growth.

What are the local priorities?

Communication

Regulatory services have not always been effective in communicating, especially in getting regular messages out in a simple format that is easy for local business to understand. We need to ensure all business-facing information is clear and presented in a business- focused language.

Business Engagement

We need businesses to be involved. We need to maximise opportunities to engage and mix with local businesses through local networks and events.

Training

We train our officers in Business Mentoring enabling them to have a better understanding of business and the business support resources locally, nationally and internationally available. By better understanding business we aim to establish a positive culture change in our working relationships with businesses.

How can businesses get involved?
