Supporting Meaningful Conversations in Youth Justice

- All ClearCut Communication resources are written using speech language and communication (SLCN) friendly language
- We use colours and images that support understanding without distracting
- All our resources have a matt finish to avoid glare
- Our resources are tried and tested by young people, families, carers and practitioners in County Durham

Income generated is used to improve outcomes for young people who offend and young victims in County Durham.

All ClearCut Communication resources are developed by CDYJS. Durham County Council has copyright on all ClearCut communication resources.

Where possible, we will offer to sell you an email attachment (pdf), so you can produce as many copies as you need for your own use.

AssetPlus Screening Support Pack

(Product Code: AP)

Puts the young person at the heart of the YJB screen.

Interactive resource that has the screen questions rewritten into questions for the young person. Includes picture support, summary sheets and supporting booklet that outlines how to use the resources, what SLCN are, warning signs, strategies and when to make a referral to a Speech and Language Therapist.

The pack comes in a plastic wallet. Essential for anyone carrying out an AssetPlus assessment.

Invaluable for anyone working face to face with young people.

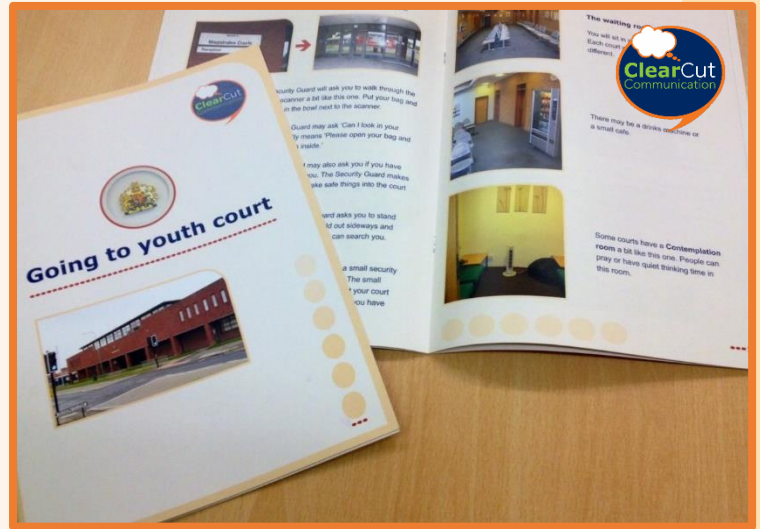

Price: £65 (VAT zero rated).

Going to Court

(Product Code: GTC1 / GTC2)

A resource that takes the young person through the process of going to court step by step with photographs. It includes what might happen, who will be there and their roles, what will be expected of them and what the outcomes could be. We advise you to supply us with images of your local court building and your logo. We'll update the pdf with the actual pictures of your court. In particular this reduces anxiety for young people on the autistic spectrum. Alternatively you can order the generic Going to Court resource.

Thinking about victims

(Product Code: TAV-20 / TAV+20)

This is a speech language and communication friendly victim awareness programme. Young people that struggle with social imagination find empathy difficult. It is not easy to imagine being in the shoes of someone else.

This resource uses the thoughts and feelings of the victim in a concrete and structured way. It encourages the victim and young person to swap thoughts and feelings as they work through a parallel process. The resource naturally moves to shuttle mediation and prepares victims and young people for restorative meetings.

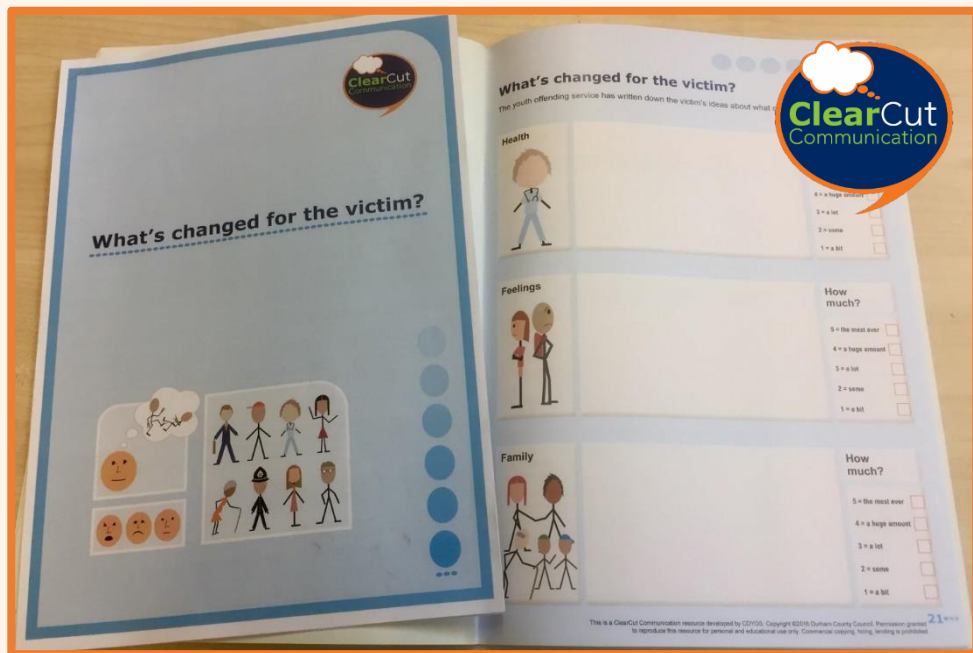

Purchase an interactive pdf for use on your computer.

Price: £500 + VAT.

What's changed for the victim?

(Product Code: WCV)

This is a resource to help record the voice of the victim.

Using communication friendly images, language and layout, it asks, what has changed for the victim since the offence? It focuses on their thoughts, feelings, and the impact of the offence.

What's changed for the victim? is included in the Thinking about victims resource. You only need purchase this as a separate resource if you are not buying Thinking about victims.

We've created it as a separate tool following demand from Victim Liaison Officers and Registered Intermediaries who find it invaluable to gather victim information. Sold as a pdf so you can print or photocopy as many as you need. Price: £150.00 + VAT.
