00.03 – 00.11

[Uplifting music]

[Children and parent around a table]

[Social worker one voiceover]

Some of our children and families are living in really tricky circumstances

00.12 – 00.13

[Close up of children's hands playing with colourful figures]

but we can still bring out that hope for people

00.14 – 00.17

[Social Worker with child, playing together with colourful blocks, in a home environment] and enable those children to be safe and reach their potential.

00.18 – 00.20

[Child walking to school across a field, turning around and smiling]

00.21 – 00.23

[Social Worker approaching door and ringing doorbell, showing ID badge and entering house]

[Social worker two voiceover]

So probably the best part of my job is, um, supporting those families and

00.24 - 00.25

[Social Worker with parent talking, in a home environment]

and working together

00.26 – 00.32

[Social Worker with child, smiling and playing with cards, in a home environment] to support them through, you know, those most difficult times and challenges that they face.

00.33 – 00.34

[Social Worker talking to camera]

[Social worker three voiceover]

I think social work is really hard, but I think when things

00.35 – 00.39

[Children around a table playing with wooden blocks]

go well, it makes it worth the while really

00.40 – 00.42

[Child drawing at a table, smiling]

00.43 – 00.46

[Social Worker and children around a table, in discussion]

[Social worker four voiceover]

Us putting, support in for a family could make the difference of that child remaining at home

00.47 – 00.48

[Two Social Workers looking at computer, talking, smiling]

00.49 – 00.58

[Social Worker with parent, talking, child hugging parent]

The best part of my job is working with the children and young people. You know, the bring is so much happiness.

0.59 – 01.04

[Social Worker talking to camera]

[Social worker three voiceover]

The best part of the jobs is when you see families making those positive changes and eventually not needing you anymore.

01.05 – 01.07

[Child with Social Worker on a pebbled beach, talking]

[Social worker one voiceover]

We're collaboratively working with them to bring out their natural strengths

01.08 – 01.15

[Social Worker smiling, sitting with children around a table, playing with colourful cubes, close ups of children's faces] the important people in their networks, making sure children and young people have a voice.

01.16 – 01.21

[Social Worker with parent, child writing, in a home environment, child and parent together smiling]

And even in the most difficult of circumstances, we can find hope for people.

01.22 – 01.24

[Happy child sliding down a slide, outside, in a park environment]

01.25 – 01.28

[Social Worker talking to camera]

I suppose the best compliment we can get is to no longer be needed.

01.29 – 01.37
