“My name is Hazel Hill. I started in retail worked my way right through to a store manager but decided that wasn't what I wanted long term.”

[Video clip: Hazel enjoying a conversation with a fellow student]

“That sort of led me to look into the care sector. I'm currently activities manager overseeing all of the activities in three homes.”

[Video clip: Hazel talking about her job]

“As an activity coordinator, that's fantastic, but I want to go further than that”.

“And hopefully once I've completed my qualification, I'll be able to take on more responsibility and roll that out even further.”

[Video clip: Hazel walking across the courtyard at New College Durham, then a close up of her seated, talking about her role]

“It was probably the best decision of my life coming into this sector. It is absolutely for me. If you've got passion, if you've got drive, if you're even just not sure, just taking that little tippy toe in, I would recommend it to anybody.”
