

External Contractor Staff Suitability Policy for school and social care transport

This document details the policy for assessing the suitability of an individual to be deployed in the provision of transport for children and vulnerable adults and the ongoing management of their performance to ensure continued suitability. This relates to transport contractors, drivers, and passenger assistants.

Overview

The Integrated Passenger Transport Group's (IPTG) approach to an application to be engaged on home to school and adult social care transport contracts will be based on each individual's suitability for the role. Providing transport services to children and vulnerable adults for the purpose of home to school and adult social care contracts is a regulated activity. Therefore, the Council will take a strict approach when making decisions to ensure that it satisfies its safeguarding duty.

As the process will involve an assessment of risk to passengers in these vulnerable groups, in cases where there is doubt or where the decision is finely balanced, the Council will exercise caution and refuse the application to be engaged on IPTG contracts, rather than giving the individual the "benefit of the doubt" and granting the application. The overarching responsibility of the Council is to protect vulnerable members of society; it is not to provide employment and does not present a guarantee of employment, or continued employment, by an operator for provision of the services.

With that in mind, in order to ensure the decision-making process is as objective as possible and evidence based, it will focus upon four areas:

- A. What is disclosed about the applicant's criminal history
- B. What is disclosed from the IPTG's interaction with Safeguarding
- C. What is known about the applicant from their previous history, if any, with the IPTG
- D. What is found during additional checks by the IPTG.

It will also take into account additional / supporting information provided by the applicant, in specified circumstances set out below.

All requests for authorisation must be submitted online to IPTMonitoring@durham.gov.uk.

The Decision-Making Process

- A. Criminal History
- B. Safeguarding Information from Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO)
- C. Information held / previous history with the IPTG
- D. Additional checks by the IPTG

A. Criminal History

All applicants will be required to provide evidence of their identity. The suitability decision will be based mostly on the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) Enhanced Disclosure checked against child and adult workforce, although in some cases it will also include overseas criminal history checks if the applicant has lived outside the UK for a period of longer than 3 months since the age of 16. Therefore, it is essential that every applicant agrees and accepts the accuracy of the information disclosed on his or her DBS Enhanced Disclosure or their overseas criminal history check (if applicable). If they do not agree with the document, they will have to resolve this with the DBS or the local Police Authority for amendment / correction. No application will proceed, and no decision will be made, on an application that is supported by a DBS Enhanced Disclosure or overseas criminal history check that is in dispute.

It is important to highlight that the applicant must register with the DBS update service, and consent to the Council checking the status of their DBS record, within 30 days of the date the Disclosure is issued. Failure to register with the DBS update service within 30 days or failure to maintain registration with the DBS update service will mean that the applicant will not be able to renew their IPTG Authorised ID and they will be treated as a new applicant.

Whilst an historic criminal conviction in itself may not automatically result in refusal, and a current conviction for a serious crime need not bar an applicant permanently from becoming authorised, an applicant would be expected to have remained free from conviction for at least the periods in these conditions before an application is likely to be successful. If there is any doubt about the suitability of an individual to be authorised, the Council will be mindful of the need to protect our passengers and caution will be exercised. While it is possible that an applicant may have a number of convictions that, individually, do not prevent approval from being granted, the overall offending history will be considered when assessing an applicant's suitability. A series of offences over a period of time is more likely to give cause for concern than an isolated minor conviction.

Some discretion may be afforded if an offence is isolated and there are mitigating circumstances, but the overriding consideration is the protection of our passengers.

When an applicant has a caution or conviction on their documents it will be considered in relation to the above guidelines.

Any Enhanced Disclosure which includes 'any other relevant information', declared on the Enhanced Disclosure at the discretion of the local Police Authority, will also be considered by the IPTG before a decision is made. Although there may have been no clear decision made by the police or courts on this incident, the fact that this information has been included demands that this information be seriously considered. The decision will be made by two IPTG authorised officers. If the applicant does not feel that this information is accurate or true, then they must dispute this with the DBS and/or the Local Police Authority. The IPTG will not make a decision on an Enhanced Disclosure that the applicant states are not accurate.

Assessment of DBS Disclosure and Previous Convictions

Consideration of the DBS Enhanced Disclosure will be based upon:

- the offence(s) disclosed.
- the disposal / sentence issued for that offence.
- the time that has passed since that offence.
- if multiple offences, any patterns in the offending behaviour.
- any additional information provided at the discretion of the Chief Constable of the Police.

As the position involves unsupervised contact with children and / or vulnerable adults, the role falls within one of the “exceptions” to the provisions of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 regarding ‘spent’ convictions. Because of the extreme vulnerability of the passengers transported, spent criminal convictions and all other relevant matters will still be considered, including items that have been “filtered”.

A caution (or reprimand or warning) will be considered as if it were a conviction, as cautions are an admission of guilt, and that the offence did take place. However, the disposal, or sentence, that is issued upon a conviction, will also be considered, and given appropriate weight in the overall decision, and as this is not applicable to a caution, they will carry less weight overall than a conviction with any notable disposal / sentence.

A criminal offence may not permanently disbar the individual from applying for a Badge. Each case will be considered on its merits, and the applicant may present additional / supporting information for consideration. Any additional information should be provided at the time of application in order to aid a decision to be made on the suitability of the applicant. The decision of the IPTG can be appealed against (see further below).

Standards enforced by the County Council for Private Hire and Hackney Carriage Licensing have been used as guidelines but have been modified due to the increased need for caution in the assessment of applicants’ suitability for this type of work. The applicant will be engaged on a regulated activity, generally have unsupervised access to children and vulnerable people, hold a position of responsibility and will need to be suitable to deal with and manage some challenging behaviour and the special needs of some of our passengers.

The following guidelines indicate, in general, the minimum period that must have elapsed after the date of the conviction or the date of disposal/end of a custodial sentence (if applicable) until an application will be considered. These are general guidelines and should not be considered as an exhaustive list. Offences older than the guidelines will be considered and may lead to a refusal if the Authorised Officers believe that the offence itself, the disposal of the offence, or a consistency/pattern in offences, are cause for concern.

Offences involving violence and threatening behaviour

These offences are highly relevant as some of the passengers can be very challenging and the safety of the passengers is absolutely paramount.

Applicants with serious offences, such as murder, manslaughter or manslaughter/culpable homicide while driving, terrorism, or any offences (including attempted or conspiracy to commit offences) that are similar to these will be refused.

Consideration may only be given if a minimum of 10 years has passed since the completion of any sentence following conviction for the following offences:

- Arson
- Malicious wounding or grievous bodily harm, (section (s).20 Offences Against the Person Act 1861) which is racially aggravated (s.29(1)(a) Crime and Disorder Act 1998)
- Actual bodily harm (s.47 Offences Against the Person Act 1861) which is racially aggravated (s.29(1)(b) Crime and Disorder Act 1998)
- Grievous bodily harm with intent (s.18 Offences Against the Person Act)
- Grievous bodily harm (s.20 Offences Against the Person Act)
- Robbery

- Possession of firearm
- Assaulting a police officer
- Any racially aggravated offence
- Any offence relating to domestic abuse
- Any offences (including attempted or conspiracy to commit offences) similar to those above

Consideration may only be given if a minimum of 5 years has passed since the completion of any sentence following conviction, or 10 years if the offence involves violence against an identifiable person, for the following offences:

- Riot
- Resisting arrest
- Common assault

- Affray
- Harassment, alarm or distress, intentional harassment or fear of provocation of violence (Protection from Harassment Act 1997)
- Battery
- s.2 Protection from Harassment Act 1997 offence

- s.5 Public Order Act 1986 (harassment, alarm or distress)
- Obstruction
- Criminal damage
- Violent disorder
- Any offences (including attempted or conspiracy to commit offences) similar to those above

Two or more convictions for a violent offence will result in an application being refused unless a persuasive case can be made by the applicant that the offences were not such as to give an escalated risk of violent behaviour.

Weapons offences (not a firearm)

These offences are highly relevant given the position of responsibility that drivers and passenger assistants hold. Applicants with weapons offences will not be considered until a minimum of 10 years have elapsed since the date of conviction or the completion of any sentence following conviction (if applicable). Two or more convictions for a weapons offence will result in an application being refused irrespective of time elapsed.

Sexual and indecency offences

These are highly relevant due to the vulnerability of our passengers. Applicants with sexual and indecency offences will not be considered suitable at any time.

Such offences include: -

- Rape
- Assault by penetration
- Offences involving children or vulnerable adults
- Trafficking, sexual abuse against children and / or vulnerable adults
- Making or distributing obscene material
- Possession of indecent photographs depicting child pornography
- Sexual assault

- Indecent assault
- Exploitation of prostitution
- Soliciting (kerb crawling)
- Any sex or indecency offence that was committed in the course of employment as a (passenger carrying vehicle) PCV, taxi or private hire vehicle (PHV) driver
- Making obscene / indecent telephone calls
- Indecent exposure
- Any offences (including attempted or conspiracy to commit offences) similar to those above

Applicants who are or have ever been on the Sex Offenders Register (or similar) will not be considered suitable at any time.

Dishonesty

These offences are highly relevant due to the position of trust held by drivers and passenger assistants. Applicants will not be considered until 7 years have elapsed since the date of conviction or the completion of any sentence following conviction (if applicable).

Such offences include: -

- Theft
- Burglary
- Fraud
- Benefit Fraud (including offences under ss.111A and 112 of the Social Security Administration Act 1992)
- Handling or receiving stolen goods
- Forgery
- Conspiracy to defraud
- False representation
- Obtaining money or property by deception
- Other deception
- Fare overcharging
- Failing to declare convictions etc., subsequent to an application being granted
- Any offences (including attempted or conspiracy to commit offences) similar to those above

Two or more convictions for a dishonesty offence will result in an application being refused. Applicants or existing IPTG Authorised Identification badge holders that are found to have intentionally misled the council, or lied as part of the application process, will be rejected, or refused.

Drug offences

These are highly relevant due to their effect on driving and the position of responsibility the individual will be given with our impressionable passengers. These are more serious than alcohol offences as there has been a decision to interact with an illegal substance. Applicants with offences of possession of class A or B drugs will not be considered until 10 years have elapsed since the date of conviction or since the completion of any sentence and / or licence period, whichever is greater. There will then be full consideration of the nature of the offence and quantity/type of drugs involved.

Applicants will not be considered if there is an offence related to the supply of drugs.

If there is evidence of previous persistent drug use, misuse or dependency, a specialist medical examination (in accordance with DVLA (Driver Vehicle Licensing Agency) Group 2 medical standards) and a satisfactory medical report may be required before an Authorised Identity Badge is granted. If the applicant had been an addict, they would be required to show evidence of 10 years free from drug taking after detoxification treatment.

Drink related offences

Without motor vehicle – Applicants with a single offence will not normally be considered until a minimum of one year has elapsed since the date of conviction, but multiple offences would not be considered until a 2-year period has passed since the last date of conviction.

With motor vehicle – Applicants with a single offence will only be considered after 7 years have elapsed since the reinstatement of the licence. Applicants will be required to provide proof of the date of reinstatement.

Where there are multiple offences, applicants will only be considered after 10 years of the latest reinstatement.

Driving offences involving the loss of life

A very serious view is taken of any applicant who has been convicted of a driving offence that resulted in the loss of life.

Applicants will not be considered if there are offences relating to: -

- CD40 Causing death through careless driving when unfit through drink
- CD50 Causing death through careless driving when unfit through drugs
- CD60 Causing death by careless driving with alcohol level above the limit
- CD70 Causing death by careless driving then failing to supply a specimen for analysis

- Any similar offences, including attempt or conspiracy to commit any of the above

In addition:

- Aiding, abetting, counselling, or procuring any of the above offences
- Inciting any of the above offences
- Or similar offences or offences which replace the above offences

Major traffic offences

Major traffic offences, such as those listed below, will give rise to serious doubts about a driver applicant's suitability to be a driving professional. A driver applicant with one or more of the following offences disclosed on their application will normally be refused / revoked until two years after the expiry date of the most recent conviction.

In cases resulting in a period of disqualification, an application will be refused unless five years have elapsed from the expiry date of the most recent period of disqualification. Driver applicants with multiple offences will not be considered until 8 years have elapsed.

- Causing or permitting any of the above offences
- Inciting any of the above offences

Traffic Offences will not normally be applied against passenger assistant applicants, but they may be considered if there are multiple offences that bring in to question the responsibility of the individual.

In cases where the courts have imposed a disqualification from driving, the periods stated above will normally commence from the date of the restoration of the licence.

In this policy, the term “disqualification” refers to the period served, in order to take account of the fact that a court may reduce the period of disqualification from driving. An applicant must provide evidence in advance to prove that the court agreed a reduction in the period of disqualification.

Multiple Offences

In cases of multiple offences of the same character/group or multiple offences of a mixed character/group, any of the minimum periods before an application will be considered may be increased at the Council’s discretion. In every case, the minimum period will be taken as the time elapsed since the expiry date of the most recent offence.

People banned from working with children or vulnerable adults

A serious view is taken on any applicant that has been banned from working with children or vulnerable adults, and any applicant that has been banned will not be considered.

Outstanding Charges or Summonses

If the individual is the subject of an outstanding charge or summons this must be disclosed to the IPTG at the point of application. Their application might continue to be processed but the application will need to be reviewed at the conclusion of proceedings. If the outstanding charge or summons involves a serious offence, then in the interests of our passengers' safety the application may either be put on hold until proceedings are concluded, or it may be rejected.

Other Relevant Factors

The Council may take into account any other matter or matters that may affect whether an applicant is suitable, such factors include but are not limited to:

- a) Convictions/Cautions for any other offence not listed above
- b) Any diversion scheme offered as an alternative to conviction (i.e., "checkpoint" or restorative approach)
- c) Mental Health Act Orders
- d) Inclusion on any register maintained for the purposes of safeguarding the public
- e) Police intelligence/information
- f) Drug/Alcohol use and Detoxification
- g) Other relevant information disclosed
- h) Any complaints or the accumulation of complaints regarding a licence holders conduct
- i) Surrender of a licence prior to an appearance before the Licensing Committee
- j) Matters contrary to the requirements of this policy

Failure to disclose all arrest/bail/convictions, fixed penalty notices, cautions, (subject to the Exceptions Order) and/or ongoing investigations and/or pending prosecutions may affect the grant of approval or may lead to the revocation of approval.

Non-Conviction Information

The Council will take into account intelligence which has not led to a conviction. This may include but not be limited to information regarding acquittals, circumstances in which convictions were quashed due to misdirection to the jury, circumstances where the decision was taken not to prosecute, situations where the person has been arrested and bailed but not yet charged, and complaints from the public. In considering the most appropriate action to take following the receipt of information, the credibility of both the witness / complainant and the licence holder will be taken into account. If an applicant has been arrested or charged, but not convicted, for a serious offence, which suggests they could be a danger to our passengers, consideration may be given to refuse the application or to revoke an existing IPTG Authorised ID badge. In assessing the action to take our passengers safety will be of paramount concern.

Applicants with Periods of Residency outside the UK

If an applicant has lived outside the UK for a period of longer than 3 months since the age of 16, the applicant will need to provide a certificate of good conduct (or equivalent criminal record check), from that country (or countries) at the application appointment.

Because of the potential lifetime relevance for some of the most serious offences mentioned in this policy, the Council will need to ensure that sufficient background checks are conducted for those applicants who have lived overseas. For EU

(European Union) nationals a disclosure that is similar to the UK DBS will be required, for those countries for which similar checks are not available, the council will require a certificate of good conduct / police character certificate authenticated by the relevant embassy.

B. Safeguarding Information from Local Authority Designated Officer

Dependent upon the information that is contained on a DBS disclosure, the IPTG may also make its own checks with Safeguarding to ensure that there is no adverse information relevant to the applicant's suitability for the role. This may include a check of the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 (POCA) and Protection of Vulnerable Adults (POVA) list and may also require checks to be made with the Police, Social Services and HMPPS.

C. Information Held / Previous History with the IPTG

The IPTG officers will also consider any information or previous history held about the applicant by the IPTG. This could include records of any performance issues, previous breach of the code of conduct for drivers and passenger assistants, complaints and any previous sanctions taken by the IPTG. Usually, isolated performance issues that were satisfactorily resolved will not prevent the application being considered, but multiple incidents or issues, or any patterns of undesirable behaviour, will be regarded more seriously.

The IPTG officers will document their concerns and give their reasons why they came to this conclusion.

D. Additional Checks by the IPTG

The IPTG officers will also make additional checks on the applicant's suitability to undertake the role. Drivers will also be subject to a driving licence check and will need to supply confirmation of their professional licensing arrangements (Hackney Carriage / Private Hire / PCV) in order to ensure that they are appropriate to work. All these additional checks must be suitably completed before the IPTG will consider issuing a IPTG Authorised Identification Badge.

Notification of the IPTG Decision

If the applicant is successful, they will be notified in writing and their badge will usually be issued within 10 working days to the individual applicant, unless otherwise arranged with the applicant.

If the applicant is unsuccessful and the decision is taken to refuse a badge the applicant will be informed in writing and given the reason(s) why the authorised IPTG officers felt, they were not suitable. The decision letter will allow the applicant to make an informed decision as to whether they wish to appeal the decision.

Appealing the Decision

A. Stage 1

Rejected applicants who wish to appeal the decision must do so in writing, including reasons for the appeal and any mitigating circumstances that the applicant believes should be considered, within 28 days of the date of the decision letter. The appeal should be sent to IPTMonitoring@durham.gov.uk. Two IPTG authorised officers will review all the issues relating to the decision as well as reasons given by the applicant for requesting that the decision be reversed. The officer's involved will make the decision as to whether the appeal should be upheld or not.

B. Stage 2

If the applicant wishes to appeal the decision made in stage 1 of the appeal process, then they must do so in writing within 28 days of the notification of the outcome of their stage 1 appeal including any additional information that they wish to be considered. They should send this through to IPTMonitoring@durham.gov.uk. The appeal will be directed to an appeal panel consisting of the IPTG Manager, and an officer from Adult Services or Children's Services. Their decision will be final and binding. After this final appeal hearing, the applicant will be notified of the decision.

The Stage 2 Appeal Process

The stage 2 appeal will include a formal interview / discussion with the applicant about the basis of the original decision taken by IPTG officers – any incidents stated on the DBS enhanced disclosure; any safeguarding concerns unless that disclosure would put other individuals at risk of harm; IPTG information; or other relevant information. Applicants will also be allowed to submit in writing, in advance, any relevant information that they feel may give the appeal panel a better judgment of their character.

The Authorised officer(s) of the IPTG, who made the original decision, will also attend so that they can give their professional opinion and explain to the appeal panel, the basis for the original decision to refuse the application, and, where applicable, their opinion on the impact of any new information provided by the applicant.

When you have been through the appeals process and the appeal panel has made their decision, you will have reached the end of the process.

Applications to Renew an IPTG Authorised Identification Badge

Badges are issued for a period of three years. The applicant's suitability will be looked at afresh at each application for a badge and consideration of the 'renewal application' will also follow the procedure set out above. The previous approval of an applicant for a badge will not necessarily result in their application at renewal being successful, as the factors that the Council must take into account may have altered since the last application as a result of changes in law, council policy, information regarding the applicant or intervening events which may have brought the applicant's suitability into question.

The IPTG will aim to send out reminders to reapply when the badge is expiring. However, it is the individual's responsibility to ensure that they have allowed enough time for their renewal to be processed – the IPTG recommend at least two months. If the individual does not have a current valid badge, they must not work on IPTG contracts, no exceptions will be made for individuals in the process of reapplying.

In the event that a renewal application is unsuccessful, the same rights of appeal set out above will apply to that decision.

On-Going Management of Suitability

In general, an individual's suitability to continue to hold a IPTG Authorised Identification Badge is managed by the Contracts Management Team.

If there are significant safeguarding concerns, an IPTG Authorised Identification Badge may be revoked. The overarching responsibility of the Council is to protect vulnerable members of society.

IPTG must be notified if a driver or Passenger Assistant has been arrested/bailed/charged with/convicted of, or otherwise investigated, in connection with any criminal or motoring offence. This includes accepting a fixed penalty notice or caution, or receiving a Criminal Behaviour Order (CBO), attendance at any speed awareness course or injury sustained or illness that may alter their medical status in line with DVLA Group II standards or affect their driving ability or details of any motoring fixed penalty endorsements received.

Training Requirements

Prior to the issue of any new IPTG Authorised ID the applicant will be required to complete DCC's Safeguarding Training course for workers undertaking school and social care contracts.

Before undertaking the duties of a Contract all Drivers and Passenger Assistants may also require further training appropriate to the Contract which may include, but not be limited to, Wheelchair Accessible Vehicle training and Passenger Assistant training. A charge may be made to the Contractor for such training courses.

All Drivers and Passenger Assistants must undertake periodic refresher training as determined by the Council, which shall normally be at 3-yearly intervals. A charge may be made to the Contractor for such training courses.

The Council, at its discretion, may require any Driver or Passenger Assistant to undertake further training where necessary and appropriate.

Suspension / Revocation of an IPTG Authorised Identification Badge

The issue of an IPTG Authorised Identification Badge does not preclude the Council from reviewing the holder's suitability to hold an IPTG Authorised Identification Badge at any time during its currency, at its sole discretion. An individual's suitability to hold an IPTG Authorised Identification Badge may be reassessed at any time and in the event of an incident occurring that requires further investigation, the individual's IPTG Authorised Identification Badge may be suspended while the matter is investigated, and all the facts are established and assessed. There are certain allegations which mean that the IPTG cannot divulge any detail of the allegation against an individual whilst their IPTG Authorised Identification Badge remains suspended pending investigation.

The outcome of an investigation may result in the decision to revoke an individual's IPTG Authorised Identification Badge. In this event, the individual may request an appeal as per the process detailed earlier in this document.

If an IPTG Authorised ID Badge is revoked the individual will be notified of a date that they may be eligible to apply again, if appropriate. Any previous incidents that required further investigation will be considered by the IPTG when examining an application to renew an IPTG Authorised Identification Badge and may result in refusal.

A. Liabilities: The IPTG Authorised Identification Badge Scheme

In circumstances where the council must suspend an IPTG Authorised Identification Badge to investigate complaints / allegations, the Council will not compensate that person for any alleged loss of income, or any other costs howsoever arising, for the period of suspension. This will be the case even if the allegations prove to be unfounded. This will also apply for any period in circumstances where the Council decides to withdraw the IPTG Authorised Identification Badge altogether. Equally, the Council will not compensate for any period that an application, or an appeal is being considered. The Council's duty of care towards vulnerable groups is paramount and must always be the guiding principle for any of its decisions.
