

Stanley Sidney Savin
Rest Period at Dimapur

We went back to Dimapur for our rest, and that was, you know, really luxury after what we'd had for the past few days. And we had mail from home, adequate food. We had a beer issue and we had a bath in cut down halves of 46 gallon drums which served the purpose well. We saw two films and I put them in my diary. One was called South of Tahiti with Brian Dunlevy and the other one was Hitting A New High with Lily Pons. And we also visited the hospital to see some of our wounded.
